The Wild Nature Project is dedicated to providing quality nature-connection programs for all ages. Programs that inspire and build confidence in oneself and excitement to be in nature, learn in nature, and be stewards of nature. Fostering a healthy nature-based community filled with people who are strong leaders themselves, using a mix of ancient, time tested methods complimented by modern ideas, such as rites of passage, deep nature connection practices, naturalist studies, primitive skills, and inner tracking.

We are seeking to raise scholarship money for kids to attend our awesome wilderness classes and camps

Sunday, November 15th
1pm-5pm
